

Feud Over Ousted Dictator Peron

Venezuela, Argentina Break Off Relations

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina and Venezuela closed their embassies in each other's capitals today in a feud over ousted dictator Juan D. Peron's activities in Venezuela.

Increasingly bitter exchanges built up over a week to the open break in relations between the two countries, located at opposite ends of the South American continent.

The Argentine ambassador to Caracas said on his way home that the Venezuelan government had begun a mass roundup of Argentines in Caracas opposed to Peron.

Argentina charged Venezuela was permitting Peron to mastermind a campaign of subversion and terror against Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's government from his exile in Caracas. Aramburu charged Peron and his followers have "woven a tremendous intrigue around Venezuelan authorities."

Venezuela alleged Argentine agents had plotted to kill political refugees in that country. Foreign Minister Jose Loreto Arismendi later asserted the rupture was provoked by the Argentine ambassador in Caracas, Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero, because he had been refused an audience with Venezuelan President Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Argentine Foreign Minister Alfonso de LaFerrere announced that diplomatic relations with Venezuela had been "interrupted" rather than broken off. Diplomatic relations could be resumed quickly if Peron should leave Venezuela or his activities be restricted.

Peron, long president and dictator of Argentina, was overthrown Sept. 19, 1955, and has lived in exile in Paraguay, Panama and finally Venezuela. A rash of bombings in Buenos Aires has been blamed by the government on Peronist followers seeking to prepare for his return to power. A small bomb blew up under a car Sunday night in the center of Buenos Aires, doing little damage. Authorities said they found a terrorist "bomb factory" Saturday night after an accidental explosion in a residence.

Aramburu, one of the leaders of the coup against Peron, said in an interview his government had given Venezuela documents to prove its charges Peron was violating the rights of political asylum by plotting from Caracas.

Girard Case Before Supreme Court Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Newlywed GI William S. Girard gets an unusual four hours of attention from the Supreme Court today in his fight to avoid trial by a Japanese civil court for fatally wounding a Japanese woman.

Prompt surrender of the American soldier to Japan is urged by government attorneys to ease "international friction" and prevent "great embarrassment" they say would result if this government were prevented from carrying out its commitment to Japan.

But attorneys for Girard say he is being sacrificed to appease Japanese agitators and thus is a victim of what they call a "political decision" by the U.S. government.

His attorneys want the Supreme Court to order Girard's release from Army custody at once, since no charge has been filed against him by the military.

Girard, an Army specialist third class from Ottawa, Ill., is confined to Camp Whittington, a U.S. Army base 60 miles from Tokyo, where he was married last week to the former Haru (Candy) Sueyama.

Girard has described as an accident the fatal shooting of Mrs. Naka Sakai on a firing range in Japan where Girard and another soldier had been assigned to guard a machine gun. The woman was shot in the back with an empty cartridge case fired from a grenade launcher.

He also has denied Japanese charges that he tossed some empty cartridge cases toward the woman and enticed her to come closer before shooting.

Rep. Burrell (D-Tex) said last week a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee had been informed that Girard "coaxed" Mrs. Sakai to approach. He called it "a smart-aleck trick" which makes Girard no hero. But he contended the soldier was on duty and should be tried by court-martial.

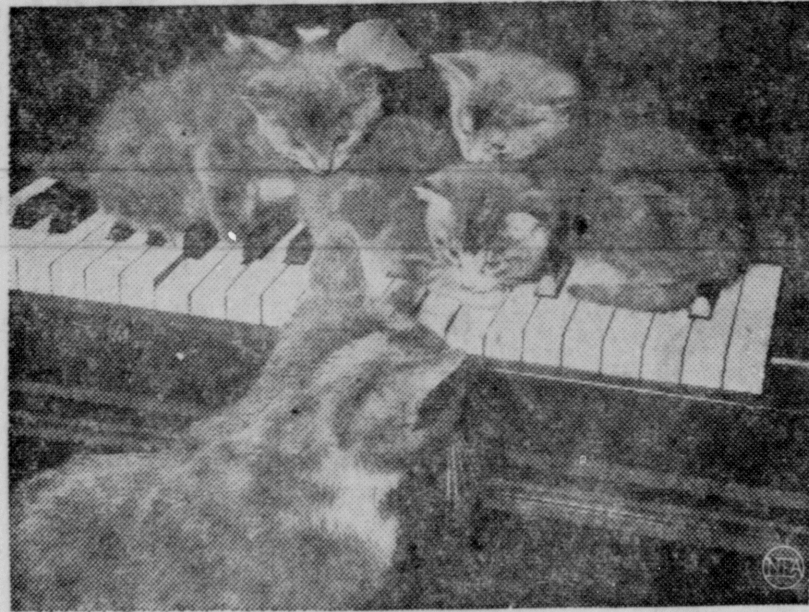

Murray Snyder, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, said in a television interview Sunday the government did not "cite all the information at hand" because to have done so might have hurt Girard's defense. He declined to discuss the additional information, but said some of it had been filed with the courts in an affidavit not yet made public.

Atty. Gen. Brownell asked reversal of a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy here that the government could not turn Girard over to Japan. McGarraghy said the soldier was on official duty at the time of the shooting last Jan. 30.

If Girard is subject to prosecution, McGarraghy ruled, it must be before a U.S. military court-martial as called for by the U.S. Uniform Code of Military Justice.

But Brownell contended the decision of the executive branch of government—approved by President Eisenhower—to compel Girard to go on trial before a Japanese court is not unreasonable or capricious and is not subject to interference by federal courts.

Huge Crowd Hears Negro Pastor Of All-White Church

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The new Negro pastor of a formerly all-white Methodist church wiped away the tears and told his overflow congregation of 1,000:

"I am overwhelmed with joy. I can say only thanks."

Sunday was the Rev. Nelson Burlin Higgins Jr.'s first day in the pulpit of the Normandie Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. His appointment—which touched off a walkout by most of the white parishioners—was announced last month by Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy of the Southern California-Arizona Methodist Conference.

It was the first appointment of a Negro as pastor of an all-white church in the conference. The 50-year-old church is in an interracial district. In 1937 it had 253 white members. By last month it had 43.

Two thirds resigned after the appointment of the Negro pastor. Bishop Kennedy said recently it was necessary either to close the "dying" church or serve the community. The office of the superintendent of the Methodist Church's Los Angeles district said appointing a Negro pastor would make the church interracial.

Sunday's congregation included white members of many other Los Angeles area Methodist churches, on hand to give the Rev. Mr. Higgins a good sendoff and support the interracial idea.

The crowd was about half white and half Negro. It filled the choir room and fellowship hall and sat outdoors in the shade of a sycamore, listening to a public-address system. Television cameras aired the service.

Boy, 14, Blinded By Firecracker

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of two young boys playing with a firecracker in a glass jar may have suffered a permanent loss of sight when the firecracker exploded.

Lee Yunkers, 14, of Parkhurst, Ill., was picnicking with relatives and his parents near Lake Erie Sunday when he put a large firecracker in a jar. As he lifted the jar to throw it into the Lake, the cracker in a jar exploded.

Doctors at Euclid-Glenville Hospital said the boy's eyes were seriously damaged by the exploding glass. He is temporarily blind and his sight may never return, doctors said.

The other youngster, the injured boy's cousin, was Donald E. Mock Jr., 14, of suburban Euclid. He received only minor injuries.

THREAT DELAYS FLIGHT

CLEVELAND (AP) — A flight of Northwest Orient Airlines was delayed for two hours at Cleveland Hopkins Airport Sunday following a telephone threat that a bomb was on board. The 36 passengers and their luggage were taken off the aircraft but no bomb was found. The plane was enroute from Washington to Detroit.

Scout Jamboree Plans Completed

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—Jamboree City, a man-made temporary community built for Boy Scouts only, is ready today for the greatest gathering of American youth in the nation's history. The Scout troops begin moving in Tuesday on the hallowed, historic rolling hills made famous by George Washington's Revolutionary War army.

Nearly 60,000 Boy Scouts and their adult leaders, ready and anxious to show off in-the-field scouting accomplishments, pour into this city of 25,000 tents in the next three days. On Friday the day-and-night program of the fourth National Jamboree officially begins. It ends July 18.

The 3,000-acre canvas city, when fully occupied, will become Pennsylvania's 16th largest city. Jamboree City has everything for comfortable living — and camping.

Besides the tents — the sleeping ones hold two Scouts each — there are roads and hospitals, water, power and telephone lines, post offices, snack bars, an inter-camp bus line and a daily camp newspaper.

O. B. Evenson, responsible for stocking the jamboree with provisions, says, "Never in modern times, even by the military, have 60,000 camped in one place and in a totally temporary city."

The statistics of operation are staggering. For instance: Eight miles of pipe carry 1 1/2 million gallons of water daily . . . 509,000 eggs will be consumed, washed down by 559,252 quarts of milk . . .

300 tons of charcoal briquets will be burned in cooking . . . And 9 1/2 million pieces of paper goods — cups, plates, spoons, napkins — will be used in the eating. The Scouts each contribute $50 to the gigantic food bill.

West Local School Levy Vote Is Tuesday

Voters in the three precincts of West Local School district will go to the polls Tuesday in a special election on an 8-mill operating levy.

Polls will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Full six-member boards will staff the polling places at Bayard, East Rochester and New Chambersburg. Supplies were distributed to presiding judges Saturday at the County Election Board office in the courthouse at Lisbon.

Truman Library Closed Until Sept. 1

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—The Truman Memorial Library and museum, opened briefly Sunday to the public after Saturday dedication ceremonies, is being closed until Sept. 1.

"There is still the task of cataloging Mr. Truman's official papers," Dr. Wayne C. Grover, government archivist, explained. Additional exhibits are to be set up, some finish work remains to be done in the Oval Room and there is landscaping left to do, he said.

An estimated Sunday throng of 6,000 sauntered through the half-moon-shaped structure, transferred to government stewardship by a group of donors who built it at a cost of 1 1/4 million dollars.

Former President Harry S. Truman, in whose name the library was dedicated, acted as host at Saturday's ceremony, attended by 10,000 persons.

President Eisenhower sent his greetings. Former President Herbert Hoover paid his respects and chatted briefly with Truman.

Contents of the library and museum, including several historical documents, are valued at 21 million dollars.

Truman said in a television interview that future historians would uncover some surprises among the 3 1/2 million papers that record his eight years in office (1945-52).
